Greenville, SC – ProSource Wholesale®, the premier partner and supplier to the trade for home and commercial remodeling projects, is pleased to welcome ProSource of Greenville as a new ProSource showroom. The new 10,030 s.f. ProSource of Greenville showroom enables them to offer thousands of flooring choices, Kitchen and Bath products as well as all of the benefits ProSource provides its' trade pro members.

The showroom, designed exclusively for trade professionals such as builders, remodelers, installers, designers and realtors, features over 40,000 product choices, including private label and name brand carpet, hardwood, ceramic, vinyl, laminate and more. In addition to floorcoverings, the showroom is a one-stop shop offering kitchen and bath design, and cabinets and countertops for many projects including those in your kitchen and bathroom. Trade pro members also gain exclusive access to myProSource, an online resource designed to connect them with client opportunities and project management tools.

ProSource of Greenville is one of more than 145 North American private showrooms that sell exclusively through a qualified network of more than 320,000 trade professionals who have become members since 1991. A consumer's only access to the best wholesale home improvement values in the industry is through their builder, remodeler, interior designer, general contractor, real estate professional, installer, or other trade professional.

"ProSource is dedicated to helping our members achieve their professional goals with valuable business-building tips on project management, product knowledge, and networking opportunities to generate project leads," said Chip Davis, Showroom Manager of ProSource of Greenville. "We look forward to working with trade professionals throughout the region to provide them with distinctive products and a buying experience that is unmatched by anyone."

Celebrating 27 years of experience catering to the unique needs of its members, ProSource knows how hard trade pros work each day to find projects, to win bids, to satisfy clients and to end the day profitably. ProSource aims to be a business partner dedicated to helping members achieve their professional goals –

a partner that works just as hard as its members. To that end, ProSource's mantra is "ProSource. Anything for the Pro."
